Dear Michael:

Though we have just started using your catering software for restaurants, I personally am seeing results in my productivity. We have two ladies that take catering orders over the phone, and I finish writing the tickets and reviewing them in order for them to stay on the phone talking to customers.

I am seeing hours a day of my time freed up thanks to having everything integrated in the system. Once a customer is entered, it's a breeze for my ladies to take orders, print them out and take me out of handling administrative details.

Having invoicing in the system in saving us time and money. We had an antiquated system for keeping up with collections and would often go 30 or 60 days before we called a past dues account. No more. Thanks to your aging reports, the quicker collections cycle more than pays for the investment in the system.

I am looking forward to learning how to create recipes in the system so we can start using your kitchen production reports and supplier ordering reports. Based on what we've seen so far, this is a system we'll be recommending to our franchisees.

Thanks for coming out with a great service for us restaurant owners that cater.

Sincerely,

Jim Logan
